ACTION OF BOARD AROUSES IRE OF INCOME ASSESSOR

"I want to be fair in this matter to all concerned and if F. A. Taylor grants any concessions I would suggest that he be notified that a meeting will be held Friday afternoon, at which time the assessment of the Golden Eagle will again be discussed," Mayor E. Weiss said.

Mr. Taylor in a written complaint to the mayor, contended that the members of the board of review overstepped their authority when they decided the assessment of the store. Mr. Taylor was insistent that the board reconvene and again take up the matter.

SIDE TALKS

THE "DO" MOTHER.

One "do" is worth a dozen "don'ts" in dealing with children.

I suppose there isn't a mother who reads this with acquiescence in the abstract. But how many acquiesce in the concrete relations of their daily life with their children.

It is so easy to say "don't." It requires no mental effort to forbid a thing. Indeed, many mothers say "don't" not only when there is good reason for forbidding, but automatically whenever a child makes an unexpected move, even though it may not have the least harm in it.

On the other hand it does require some mental effort to say "do." Constructive criticism is always harder than destructive. And say what you will, the typical human being is constitutionally lazy, especially as regards mental effort.

They wanted to Run Their Autos On the Table.

Two mothers were spending the day with me recently with their two youngsters, aged six and seven, nice energetic youngsters who required more or less attention, but in two different ways. The children's mothers had bought them each a little wooden auto to help keep their minds amused one day. After they had played with these for a while on the floor one boy started to run his on the table, attracted by the possibilities of its irregular shape for an auto track. The other was just starting to follow suit when one mother's eyes fell upon them.

"Don't put that on the table," she commanded them; and then, as her auto and plans to take a motor trip to the Pacific coast.

OUR ADVANTAGE.
Janesville now occupies a position similar to that occupied by Flint, Michigan, several years ago. The problems which confronted Flint when it began to grow industrially now confront Janesville. We have an advantage over Flint because we follow in a measure the mistakes that city pursued in meeting emergencies and profit by its successes as well as its mistakes.

In a recent issue of the Flint Journal, announcement is made that a big recreation park is planned. Following is part of that announcement:

"A large recreation and amusement park, containing approximately 30 acres and representing an investment of more than $250,000, is soon to be established in the city of Flint, according to a statement given out by an official of the Flint Park and Amusement company, a corporation recently organized here for the purpose of establishing the park."

"The company recently purchased 30 acres of the Matthew Davison farm, bordering on Flint Park Lake, formerly known as Devil's Lake, and joining the extreme northwestern boundary of the city limits. A large body of workmen is now at work clearing out the woodland on the park site and in constructing roads and walks. Arrangements have also been made for the construction immediately of a number of buildings in the park. A large dancing pavilion is to be built, as well as a roller rink and a number of other amusement buildings. A number of other buildings are to be erected on the grounds which will provide places for operations, festivals and various indoor amusements. Provision is to be made also for such outdoor recreation as baseball, tennis, coasting, skating, open-air theatricals, and many other forms of outdoor summer and winter amusements."

"One of the features of the park will be a children's playground for which a considerable section of the park site and a large section of the woodland has been set aside. Various kinds of playground equipment are to be installed in this section of the park for the free use of the children of the city."

"Janesville needs a recreation park.
It has needed it for a long time, but never in the history of the city has such a place been so desirable as it is now when one of the big problems is to attract working men and women to the city."

"Immediately the demand is made for a recreation center, the wall is heard that 'We have so many things to do in the next few years that we cannot undertake it.' This is in a measure true as far as the city is concerned, but steps can be taken to either form a local company to establish such a park or endeavor to induce responsible outside capital to become interested. One of these days someone is going to see that a recreation park similar to that planned at Flint is going to be a good investment for our citizens who can enjoy it and it will be a good investment for those who put up the money to make it possible."

HOW ABOUT THE FARMER?
A great deal is heard these days about production, wages, the cost of commodities and the methods that might be utilized to bring about a readjustment suitable to all and at the same time relieve the burden resting upon the shoulders of the public.

In all our speculation as to what might be done, it has seemed natural to overlook one of the important producers—the farmer. It is true that he has been given encouragement to some extent by government decree, but he seems to have been forgotten in other respects. The farmer has noted the opportunity to demand shorter hours of labor. His wife, children and himself have been compelled to toil early and late to produce foodstuffs, not only for this nation but for other countries. He has had to put up with what labor he could employ at prices set by the employers. His products have gone to other producers at prices fixed for the most part by the latter. Those producers have again fixed the price to the middleman and he in turn has determined what he must have from the consumer. The farmer then gets it coming and going. He takes what his buyer offers and pays for what he uses on his farm, both in staple food and tools, at the rate set by the producer.

Such a condition cannot last. A break must come, and before it does it might be well for the government to take a slant at the farmers' angle of this complicated layout.

BETTER SERVICE.
Beginning September 1, the Associated Press, which furnishes the Gazette with a full leased wire telegraph report of the news of the world and makes it possible for readers of this newspaper to get that news sooner than can be furnished by any other paper circulating in this part of the state, will start sending its report at 7 o'clock in the morning instead of 7:30. This change has been brought about through endeavor of this great news gathering agency to re-arrange the circuit of which the Gazette is a member. Heretofore the wire which served Janesville and other state papers extended to Minneapolis, St.
Paul, Superior, Winona, Minnesota and Fargo, North Dakota. The new circuit will give only state papers and will give the Gazette more state news. Arrangements are being made to have a more complete service from Madison.

This move on the part of the Associated Press is another illustration of the progressiveness of those papers in that news gathering combination.
With this splendid service, together with the many others the Gazette has added in the last few months, this newspaper is in a position, to hand to its readers each night a periodical which will compare favorably with any in the state. It is in a class with papers published in cities several times the size of Janesville.

New York waiters went on strike for higher wages. With the price of shoes going up and considering the number of trips a waiter has to make between the kitchen and the patron's table before the latter gets enough to eat, these days, it is hard to blame the waiter for attempting to protect his bank roll.

One of the most noticeable changes in the equipment of automobile tourists this year is the camping outfits that are tied to many cars. Perhaps this is due to the increase in prices of meals and lodging which hotels have been forced to demand.

Those who have enjoyed a wonderful summer, as far as weather has been concerned, are slowly but surely getting back into shape to buckle down to the winter grind. It is difficult, but continued efforts will bring results.

Their OpinionsNeed More Hours.

As compared with tradesmen or manufacturers one never hears the farmer complained of as a profiteer, and while many tradesmen and artisans appear to be trying to work as few hours a day as possible, the farmer appears only to be looking for more hours in the day to work in—certainly no one finds him idle when there is light enough for him to see his tasks. And who ever heard of a farmer striking?—Appleton Post.

Still Agrees.

There is no use complaining, but our opinion hasn't changed with reference to the daylight saving measure. We still agree with Wilson that the merits of the law greatly outweigh any disadvantages that have resulted from it.—Antigo Journal.

Preparedness.

Two dispatches from Manitowoc convey the information that the city is enlarging both its cemetery and its police force. They must expect the new cops to get busy with their guns.
—Wausau Record-Herald.

Savers.

Just keep in mind that it is not so much how you earn as how you save that counts. The fellows working toward independence are not the big earners but the big savers. Every dollar you can lay aside in the savings bank is a step toward independence.

Don't let the idea that you may die next few years keep you from planting an orchard, setting out shade trees or fixing up your premises.

Just remember that if you do not en-else will and that the whole community will benefit. And the just you don't die or move away as soon as you expect to.—Wausau Record-

JUST FOLKS
By EDGAR A. GUESTWITH THE YOUNGSTERS.

I don't know how to say it, but if such a thing could be I'd always have a pack of youngsters trailing me.
I'd like to take them roaming through the woods and by the streams.
And spend my life in painting little people's fairy dreams.
For a man is never selfish, never tempted much to wrong No matter where he travels when he's got a child along.

I dread the time that's coming when our babes will be all grown, And the boyhood and the girlhood from beneath our roof has flown.
What will take the place of laughter that is ours to hear today?
Who will come to this old codger with the glad request to play?
When there are no glad surprises for the eyes of youth to view And no childhood needing counsel, what, I wonder, shall I do?

I like to be with youngsters, like to have them in a band, And explain in language simple things that they don't understand.
There's more joy in children's laughter and little people's speech Than in all the worldly wisdom which the gray-beards have to teach.
So I've come to the conclusion that if such a thing can be I always want to have a pack of youngsters trailing me.

Q. Has there ever been an irreligious president of the United States? T.
W.

A. Every president of the United States has professed a belief in the Christian religion.

Q. Has it ever actually rained tad-poles? A. H. C.

A. It is probably true that at sometime tadpoles have come to earth with rain or in waterpots. If so, the phenomenon has been due to the taking up of those tadpoles by a cyclone.
After a rain it is often true that the ground is strewn with earthworms which leads to the belief by some that it rains these worms. In this case, the fact that they crawl out of the ground after it is softened by a downpour.

Q. What is a hoop snake? J. P. C.

A. There is a wide belief in hoop snakes which are said to take their tails in their mouths, thus forming a hoop, and to roll down hill. The repulsive specialist of the national museum informs us that these snakes are without eyes.

Q. How can I acquire luxurious eyelashes? G. L. T.

A. Coconut oil is said to promote the growth of eyebrows and eyelashes.
Care should be taken in applying it, not to get it in the eyes.

Champion Peach Pitter Earns $20 a Day

[BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS.]

Yuba City, Cal.—Twenty dollars a day is being earned here by Miss Margaret Myers, champion peach pitter in California—and that means the world. She is working piece work in a local cannery. Her lowest day's wages has been $14, while her average is $20.

Housewives and children's nurses in surrounding towns have practically all left their positions for work in the canneries pitting peaches, where they are averaging $10 a day. Not more than four years ago they considered themselves fortunate to get $27 per ton.

He has asked me, on several occasions, to go to dinner with him. I have always passed everything up, thinking he was trying to make a fool of me. I have always been indignant that he should ask me. I have never liked the idea of mixing business and social affairs, so always refused.

Yesterday he asked permission to call on me at my home. I explained to him that it would be impossible for me to recall anything concerning the case. He asked me to go out to dinner with him, as he was leaving town

THE WISHING PLANE

Lamar, the Swiss guide, was telling Jack and Jane all about mountain climbing when we had to stop the last story. So now we'll hear some more about it. He said:

"When the climbers come to one of the great cracks in the mountain the guide tests the ice and snow along the edge by striking it with his stick and then by walking on it. He tells the other climbers to stand very still and brace themselves so that if the ice breaks off and drops into the crack they can pull him up by hauling on the rope."

"But doesn't the guide get afraid when the ice breaks off and drops him down into the crack?" asked Jack.

"No, because he is used to such accidents," answered Lamar. "He knows the ice will hold and that if the other men have followed orders they will stand still until the guide calls up to them to pull up on the rope. Then he helps them by digging into the sides of the crack with his toes and stick."

HAZEL H. BOOKED TO RACE AT STATE FAIR

Milwaukee, Aug. 29.—Hazel H., 2:04 1/2, is going to be at the State Fair races again. If she is in racing luck until September 3. This sensational racing filly had a wonderful season last year, and those who saw her win were convinced that she is a remarkable side wheeler.

Hazel H. was unfortunate during the early part of the past season in landing in the hottest sort of company in her starts on the Grand Circuit. After landing the money in a sensational race at Marion, Mo., won by John H. Graham, who paced two heats in 2:08 1/2 and another in 2:08 1/2, she was shipped to North Randall, where she was unlabeled, although pacing a good race. At Columbus, she won four times in a row, won by Walter Cochato. At Toledo, where she was unlabeled in a race won by Directum J. 2:03 1/2, she was timed three heats in 2:03 1/2, 2:03 1/2 and 2:04 1/2.

At Columbus, Hazel H. finished fourth in a heat in 2:03 1/2, won by Baxter Lou, and at North Randall, she was third in the Grand Circuit heat in 2:05 1/2. At Greenwood half-mile track she was third two heats to South Bend Girl in 2:07 1/2 and 2:07 1/2.

When the Great Eastern Circuit horses reached Milwaukee, Hazel H. was in form and in the 2:00 stake for 2:05 pacers she defeated The Pointer Queen, Braden Direct, and others in a five-heat race. She is but seven years of age, is a handsome chestnut mare, sired by Governor Durbin 2:10 1/2, out of Princess Bonnie 2:16 1/2, by Venture 2:09 1/2. She does free legged and wears few boots in good mannered and game.

Army Champ Gets Hot On Jack's Trail

Jack Dempsey may claim the heavyweight championship of the world, but there is one man whom he cannot claim the title over and that individual is Bob Martin, of Akron, Ohio, recently returned from France where he served through several severe campaigns with a former Ohio national guard outfit, and later won the heavyweight championship of the world, interlarded army by knocking out Coughlin, of Australia, in 50 minutes.

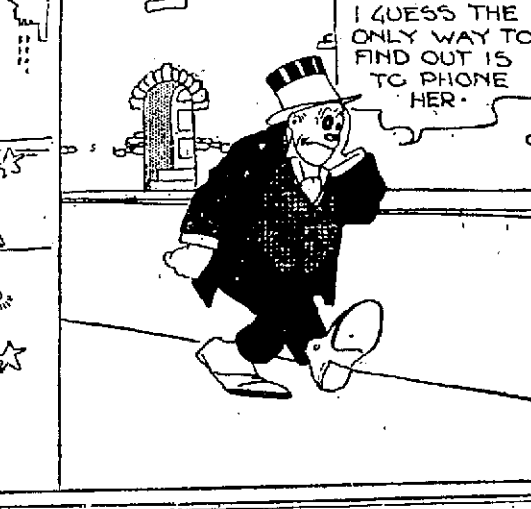

Martin says Dempsey does not deserve the title. He further avers that Joe Willard had no right to fight for the championship because neither of them served their country in the greatest war in the history of the world. Dempsey worked in a shipyard and Willard did nothing but refuse invitations and requests and appeals to fight for the Doughboys.

Martin is 31 years old and has the beam at 200 pounds. He won seven of his eight bouts in the elimination series at the inter-allied games, via the knockout route, and disposed of the great Coughlin from Australia in 50 minutes of the best milling ever seen in an army contest across the pond.

General Pershing personally commended Martin. He told the big gladiator he deserved the greatest success in the square circle because he was a real man, and that wherever or whenever he fought he (Martin) could feel that he had his best wishes for success. Pershing handed Martin a gold medal in recognition of his work in winning the heavyweight championship of the allied army.

Martin has returned to this country and says he will press his claim. He declares his fight in France were witnessed by 30,000 American Doughboys and these will be with him in his fight. Martin says Dempsey's title is not clear until he is beaten and he adds that Dempsey can do business with him without delay. "I fought in France for nothing but the applause of 30,000 real men, and I am not going to be strict in my demands from the conqueror of Joe Willard," said Martin. Army men returned from France are for Martin, as are the fighting men of France and Great Britain who were in attendance at the interlarded games. Dempsey will receive a formal challenge from the Akron lad within a short time; possibly when Jack appears in Cleveland in his theatrical stunt.

BRINGING UP FATHER

HORSES TRAINED ON LOCAL TRACK MAKING THEMSELVES AND JANESVILLE FAMOUS

MANY HAVE TAKEN FIRSTS IN MIDDLE WEST RACES—MONEY RACES PROMISE TO BE GREATEST EVER HELD IN CITY.

Horses trained on the Janesville track are meeting with great success in all parts of the middle west and are establishing a reputation both for themselves and the local track in horse circles. The majority of the locally trained steeds will be seen in actual races on the home course at the fair on Monday.

Louis Winter, owned by McNutt of Oxford, and trained here during the past two seasons won the $1,500 stake for 2:10 trotters at the Illinois State fair at Springfield, Ill., this year, making a record of 2:07 1/2. He also won the $1,000 stake at Madison, Tuesday, and his chances of winning the 2:10 trot at the local fair on Monday look bright to track fans.

Three Can Bet 2:05. Dick Dickson, in the stable of the well known Janesville trainer, George Spencer, was victorious over a big field in the 2:05 pace at the Dane county fair at Madison, Tuesday. He will start in the same event here Labor Day. This promises to be one of the fastest races ever trotted or paced over the local track, as there are at least three horses entered that can beat 2:05.

The Expression, owned by Chas. Elver, Madison, also in Spencer's string, won the $1,000 stakes at Monroe and Mineral Point and two heats of the same race at Madison, losing the deciding heat by breaking. This horse starts here in the $1,000 stake for 2:20 trotters on Wednesday, Janesville day. Silver Lou, in Spencer's stable won a great race at Peoria and the first heat at Springfield in 2:09 1/2. He is entered in the 2:18 trot on Wednesday.

Spencer also won the 2:14 pace at Madison with Calumet, Jr., and starts him in the 2:13 pace here Thursday.

Another Madison Winner. H. T. C., owned by H. T. Chandler, Monroe, and trained here all season, won the 2:20 pace at Madison and now that he has a record will cut loose for all there is in it in his next start here. In fact, Janesville trained horses came near cleaning up the entire program at Madison, Tuesday and Wednesday, winning four firsts and one second out of five starts.

Good judgment has been shown by the management of the local fair in arranging such a great program for Labor Day, when there should be the largest crowd that has ever attended a fair in Janesville. The 2:16 and 2:06 pace on this day promise to be the greatest equine contests that ever took place in this city and in each instance, with favorable conditions, a new track record will be made.

Mabel M., owned by A. W. Mitchell, this city, will race in the 2:30 trot here on Tuesday and in the 2:18 trot on Wednesday. She is racing at Rockford today and is being driven by Hildebrandt. She is five years old and has never been known to break in a race.

GREYS WILL BATTLE CRESCENTS LABOR DAY

With Pete Fleming slated to do the twirling, the Janesville Greys will again cross willows with the Milton Junction Crescents as the feature attraction of the farmers' and threshers' picnic at Charley Bluff, Lake Koshkonong, Labor Day. Mullen will doubtless oppose Fleming on the hill.

The game will be played for a side bet of $75.

The Greys' batting order: Roherty, Jr.; Cassidy, ss; Marshall, 1b; Heagerty, cf; Dorn, 3b; Cullen, 2b; Vobian, c; Spohn, p; Fleming, p.

County Run Fair. Manitowoc.—Final figures, while not complete, show that the first fair run under county ownership was a big success. The receipts this year doubled those of 1918. The attendance exceeded the mark of 25,000 set for the four days by almost 10,000 and the races the last day proved the best of fair.

JANESVILLE REINFORCED FOR NORTHERN TRIP WITH TWO NEW MEN

Two new men have been obtained as reinforcements for Janesville's team in the Lake Shore league for its northern trip this week and efforts are being made to get another pitcher to hurl the second game.

Eddie Aaron, an infielder of considerable ability and an ex-leaguer, and Harry Keith, Grand Rapids, Mich., a slugging outfielder just returned from overseas, are the two signers.

Lengquist will pitch the game at Waupun, Sunday, while Hank Schmidt, Milwaukeean, who pitched eight months for an A. E. K. team, will probably be obtained to do the heavy work at Sheboygan, Labor day. The team will leave Janesville early Sunday morning.

A meeting of all players on the team will be held at the Gazette office at 7:30 tonight. Every man is requested to attend and bring with him his uniform for shipment to Waupun.

Rhineland.—A big tractor demonstration with several types of machines in competition was held near this city this week. Plowing, dragging and other kinds of work that may be done with a tractor in the new country was performed by the machines.

SPORT SNAP-SHOTS

BY JACK KEENE.

In the early days of the season, when the Giants' pennant chances were brightest, it seemed as if the power that lay in their bats might carry Merkle's men to the championship in spite of mediocre pitching. When it came to the test—when the club had either to clinch its hold on first place or slip back under the force of the Red attack—it was the Giants' hitting and not the pitching that failed to hold up.

A glance at recent lists of the National league batting averages tells the story in compact and irrefutable form. According to these figures, during the week ending last Thursday, Larry Doyle lost seven points, George Burns lost five, Ross Young gained one, Hal Chase lost six, Bennie Kauff lost 17, Arthur Fletcher lost 11, Heinie Zimmerman gained three, Al Baird lost eight, Mike Gonzales lost 12 and Frank Snyder did not either gain or lose. It will be seen at a glance that only two of the men counted upon to do a bit of hitting behind the pitching wheel of the club is now receiving such simple reason that an injury to his right wrist, sustained in the recent series in St. Louis, made it impossible for him to properly grip a bat. There is no logical reason for the failure of Young's slight gain marked a halt in a disastrous and unexplainable slump in which the Texas flyer tumbled some time ago and in the course of which he slipped from a position in the thick of the fight for the league's batting honors right out of the .300 class. Young is at a loss for an explanation for his failure to hit at the pace he set for himself at the start of the season. However, he has continued to plug away at the ball and though he has lost a number of hits recently because of excellent plays on the part of opposing fielders, he apparently is getting back into his normal stride.

One of the few players to hold his own with the willow, as the figures indicate, is the great Zim, who has been moved up to the cleanup position in the batting order. Heinie is not slugging the ball as he did two years ago, when he virtually batted the Giants to a pennant, but he is doing pretty well just now. Chase has risen from obscurity to the .308 class in a few weeks' drive, but slumped for the right wrist, sustained in the recent series in St. Louis, made it impossible for him to properly grip a bat. There is no logical reason for the failure of the other members of the club to hit in the manner expected of them.

Heinie Groh has been a member of the Reds longer than any of the other players. He joined the Cincinnati team in 1913. In point of age, Salco and Daubert are the oldest players now working under Pat Moran. Each has celebrated his thirty-fourth birthday. Ray Fisher is 32 and Sherwood Magee was 33 last week. Ivy Wingo has been catching for the Reds since 1916. Starider is another veteran who has been playing big league ball since 1912. Reuther, Ring, Eller, Rath, Kopf, Roush and Neale are comparatively young men, who have developed rapidly since the new Miracle Man succeeded Christy Mathewson at the helm.

Jack Warner, who will be remembered as the Giants' leading catcher in 1914, has just been appointed a member of the International league's umpire staff. Warner is a New Yorker. He began his baseball career playing with local semi-professional teams and became a member of the Giants more than 20 years ago. When McGraw took the management of the Giants he retained Warner, who remained with the team until 1908. Warner invested his savings in a minor league club with unfortunate results and finally became scout. He knows the game thoroughly and as an umpire he ought to give general satisfaction.
